Welcome to Kogan Insurance

Product Disclosure Statement (PDS)

This document contains details of your cover (your policy), your responsibilities, the claims process and how and when to get in touch with us.

This PDS uses words that have special meaning. For the definition of these words refer to pages 44–46.

You can download this PDS from koganinsurance.com.au, or you can call us on 1300 034 888 and we will send you a free copy.

When we agree to enter into your policy we will issue you with a Certificate of Insurance.

Your Certificate of Insurance gives you specific, detailed information about your policy cover and may vary the standard terms and conditions of the PDS depending on your specific circumstances.

Carefully read the PDS and Certificate of Insurance together to understand the cover, your obligations and to compare and consider whether this product is right for you.

By entering into your policy you confirm that you have read or will read the PDS and Certificate of Insurance when provided to you.

Keep these documents in a safe place for future reference.

It's very important that you comply with:

- your 'Duty of Disclosure' (see pages 21–22); and
- the terms and conditions of your policy.

If you do not, we may refuse to pay your claim or reduce the amount we pay you. By law, we may also in some circumstances cancel your policy.

14 day cooling off period

If you decide that this policy is not for you and you have not made a claim, or an event has not occurred that could give rise to a claim on this policy, you may cancel this policy within 14 days of it starting (this also applies to each renewal).

If you cancel within the cooling off period, we will refund any premiums you have paid for the policy less any government levies, taxes or duties that we cannot recover. Even after this cooling off period ends, you still have cancellation rights – see page 38.

Legal liability cover

We will pay for amounts you are legally liable to pay as compensation for damage to other people's property that:

- results from an accident that is your fault; and
- was caused by or arises out of the use of your car, a substitute car, or your trailer or caravan attached to your car at the time of the accident.

This cover is extended to apply to any person who is driving, using or in charge of your car with your permission or any passenger getting into or out of your car. This does not increase the maximum amount we pay under the policy shown below.

We will also pay legal costs and expenses reasonably incurred in relation to a demand to pay compensation which would be covered under this legal liability cover. Let us know if you expect to incur legal costs and expenses before doing so, so that we can inform you whether we agree that they are reasonable.

The most that we will pay for any legal liability from an accident is $20 million. This amount includes all legal costs and expenses covered by the policy.

Pay As You Drive cover

Want Comprehensive cover but don't drive that often? Pay As You Drive cover offers you the security of Comprehensive cover for a discounted premium that is based on the distance you estimate you will drive during the period of insurance.

Your start and end odometer readings

When you choose Pay As You Drive cover, we will show on your Certificate of Insurance:

- your start odometer reading – this is your car's odometer reading that you advise to us before you enter into your period of insurance; and

- your end odometer reading – this represents the maximum odometer reading for your car during the period of insurance.

Your car's start odometer reading will only be shown on your Certificate of Insurance for your first period of insurance. You have an obligation to ensure that the start odometer reading disclosed immediately before entry into the first period of your insurance policy was/is accurate. If you renew your policy with us, the start odometer reading will not be shown on your renewal Certificate of Insurance.

Outside odometer excess

The Outside odometer excess will apply, in addition to your basic excess and any other applicable excess(es) if an incident happens, and:

- your car's odometer reading is either higher than the end odometer reading, or below the start odometer reading (if you are in your first period of insurance), as shown on your Certificate of Insurance; and/or
- your car's odometer is faulty or non-functional and you have not had it repaired; and/or
- your car's odometer has been replaced and your odometer reading has changed as a result, and you have not contacted us to update your policy details.

The Outside odometer excess will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Kilometre grace distance

If you have a claim and your car's odometer reading exceeds the end odometer reading by no more than the Kilometre grace distance (as set out in your Certificate of Insurance), the Outside odometer excess will be waived.

Pay As You Drive rights and responsibilities

When you choose Pay As You Drive cover, the following responsibilities and rights will apply.

Your responsibilities

You are responsible for:

- providing an accurate start odometer reading before your policy commences and if we ask when we vary your policy or if you lodge a claim;
- checking that your end odometer reading as shown on your Certificate of Insurance provides you with sufficient kilometres to meet your needs. If you need to vary this, please contact us on 1300 034 888;
- regularly checking your car's odometer reading to make sure you have not reached your end odometer reading. If the end odometer reading has been exceeded, you need to contact us on 1300 034 888 to apply to update your end odometer reading. We may vary the policy terms or charge an additional premium;
- if your car's odometer has been replaced you will need to contact us to update your policy.

Remember: The obligations that apply to all Kogan Car Insurance policies also apply to Pay As You Drive cover. See pages 21–23 under 'Your responsibilities'.

Our rights

We have the right to check the odometer reading you provide by:

- inspecting your car;
- asking you to take your car to an appropriate agent of ours;
- asking you for relevant documents, such as photographs, your car's service records or registration inspection certificates.

We will not pay any claim where your car's odometer has been tampered with, replaced or manipulated to alter the odometer reading.

Common questions – Pay As You Drive cover

Q: Can I increase my end odometer reading?

You can contact us on 1300 034 888 to increase your end odometer reading. If we agree to this change, you may need to pay an additional premium. In some cases, we may not be able to vary your policy, so it's important to think carefully about how many kilometres you will need when you apply.

Q: Can I reduce my end odometer reading?

Once cover has started, you cannot reduce your end odometer reading during that period of insurance. On renewal of your policy, you can apply to reduce it for the renewal policy period.

Q: How do I confirm how many kilometres I need when I renew?

When you receive your renewal Certificate of Insurance, a new end odometer reading will be shown. This end odometer reading is an estimate of what your end odometer reading could be for your renewal period.

You need to check this end odometer reading. If you are comfortable with that reading, you do not need to do anything. However, if you would like to either increase or decrease your end odometer reading for the renewal period, you need to contact us on 1300 034 888 to vary the reading before the policy renews.

Premiums explained

What is your premium?

Your premium is the amount of money you agree to pay us for your policy.

How much do I pay?

When you apply and we agree to provide you with cover, or we renew your cover, we will advise you of the premium amount, which we will confirm on your Certificate of Insurance.

How do we calculate your premium?

Your premium is calculated based on a number of criteria, such as:

- the cover you choose;
- the type of car you own;
- where you park your car overnight;
- your car's accessories (shown on your Certificate of Insurance) or accepted modifications included in your cover; and
- factors relating to the drivers of your car such as their age and driving history.

We will also look at the value of your car, other factors that increase or decrease the risk of a claim and factors that affect our business costs.

Minimum premiums apply which could reduce any discount you may be entitled to.

Your premium will also include amounts covering government charges, taxes or levies we are responsible for, such as GST and Stamp Duty. This information will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Your responsibilities

Paying your premium

You need to make sure your premium payment(s) are up to date. If they are not, we may cancel your policy in accordance with the law.

If any premium instalment remains unpaid for 14 days or more, we may also refuse to pay a claim.

It is important that you contact us if your bank or credit card details change.

In the event of a total loss claim and where you pay your premium by instalments, we will deduct any unpaid premium for the period of insurance from the claim settlement.

Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into the policy with us, you have a duty of disclosure under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984. This duty is different the first time you enter into a contract with us to when you vary, extend or renew the contract. It applies until we agree to insure you (or until the contract is varied, extended or renewed as applicable).

Duty of disclosure when you enter into the policy for the first time with us

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. If we do, you must provide us with the information we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms your proposal for insurance is acceptable and to calculate how much premium is required for your insurance. You must be honest and disclose to us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in the answers to the questions. It is important that you understand that you are answering for yourself and anyone else to whom these questions apply.

Duty of disclosure when you vary, extend or reinstate the policy

You are required to provide us with the information you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms to accept the risk.

Duty of disclosure when you renew the policy

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. You must tell us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in answering the questions.

We may also provide you with a copy of anything you have previously told us and ask you to tell us if it has changed. If we do this, you must tell us about any change or tell us that there are no changes. If you do not tell us about a change to something you have previously told us, you will be taken to have told us that there is no change. You have this duty until we agree to renew the contract.

Non-disclosure

If the Duty of Disclosure is not complied with we may cancel the policy and/or reduce the amount we pay if you make a claim. If fraud is involved we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the policy as if it never existed.

Full details of the Duty of Disclosure are available free of charge by calling us on 1300 034 888 or you can view it any time at koganinsurance.com.au

Looking after your car

You must ensure your car is kept in good repair and you need to take all reasonable precautions to protect your car from loss or damage.

If you do not maintain and protect your car, we may decline your claim or reduce what we pay for a claim.

Notify us when things change

During the period of insurance you must tell us of any change that may increase the chances of a claim or if any information provided by you to us is not accurate. If you do not do this we may refuse to pay a claim where permitted by law.

These changes can include but are not limited to:

- if you add any accessories to your car;
- if your car is modified from the manufacturer's specifications;
- if you change from using your car for private use to business use; and/or
- if you replace or sell your car.

Where things change we will review the policy. We may propose a variation to the policy terms, charge an additional premium or in some cases cancel the policy.

More than one insured person

If there is more than one insured named on your Certificate of Insurance we will treat a statement, act, omission, claim or request to alter or cancel your policy made by one as coming from all of those named as insured.

Paperless correspondence

We prefer to communicate with you by email or other electronic channels. However if you do not want to receive correspondence electronically, let us know. We will consider any policy documents we send to you electronically to have been received by you 24 hours from when we sent them.

You are responsible for making sure you provide us with your correct and up to date email address.

General exclusions

No insurance covers everything so it is important to understand the exclusions of your policy. These exclusions apply to your chosen cover.

However, this exclusion will not apply if you can prove that you had no reason to suspect, and a reasonable person in your situation would have had no reason to suspect that the driver of your car was affected by alcohol or any drug. If we do settle the claim, we may decide to recover what we have paid from the person who was driving or in charge of your car when the accident happened.

- loss or damage to your car caused by using the wrong fuel;

- any costs claimed for damage, replacement or repairs to modifications or non-standard accessories on the car, or claims caused by or contributed to by modifications or non-standard accessories on the car, to the extent permitted by law, where these were not notified to us and the policy was not varied to cover them beforehand (refer to 'Notify us when things change' on page 23).

Financial and non-financial exclusions

Your policy does not cover you for:

- any amount over the agreed value or the market value of your car as shown on your Certificate of Insurance;
- any limitation that applies to your cover that is shown on your Certificate of Insurance;
- any claim amount below any excess(es) that you must pay or bear;

Report the incident

Report the incident or loss to the police if the law requires it to be reported.

4

Call us

Call our claims team on 1300 034 888 and report the incident.

Do not:

- admit guilt, fault or liability except to the police;
- offer or negotiate to pay any claim; or
- approve any repairs, except essential repairs needed to minimise or prevent further loss or damage to your car.

Assessing your claim

After you have lodged a claim with us, we will assess it. When we are doing this, we may ask you for reasonable information and assistance to help with the process, including as set out below.

We may ask you for:

- a face-to-face or telephone interview;
- information including the name and address of the person who caused the accident and the registration number of the other car involved;
- written statements under oath;
- relevant documents;
- odometer readings;
- proof of ownership of the car and any damaged or lost property, such as receipts, invoices, bank or credit card statements, contracts of sale or original photographs;
- details of any other insurance that relates to the claim.

We will require you to:

- let us see or take possession of any damaged property;
 - let us or our agent inspect your car;
 - send us any communication you receive about the claim from anyone else (including letters of demand and communication about court proceedings);
 - do everything you can to help us to negotiate, defend or settle your claim or to recover costs from another party responsible for damaging your car.

What we pay

If you have a claim under the policy we will, depending on what approach is more reasonably practicable in the circumstances:

- repair your car if it is safe and economically viable to do so;
- pay you the reasonable cost for you to repair your car;
- replace your car; or
- pay you the agreed or market value of your car (depending on which cover you have selected or any other limit shown on your Certificate of Insurance) if it is a total loss.

In determining the approach to take, regard will be had to all relevant circumstances, including but not limited to your preference and the relevant legislation that applies in the State or Territory where your car is being assessed to determine if your car is a total loss.

If your car is a total loss

The maximum amount we will pay for the total loss of your car will be based on the sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance, less any excess(es).

Insurance cover for the car will cease as soon as we accept or pay the claim.

If your car is declared a total loss, we will deduct any unexpired portion of your registration and Compulsory Third Party insurance premium from the settlement amount paid. No premium refund is due if you have paid your premium annually. If you are paying your premium monthly, we will deduct the balance of the yearly premium owing from the claim settlement.

You will need to contact us if you want to apply for new insurance cover for your replacement car.

Salvage rights

If your car is declared a total loss, the car, along with any salvage rights will become our property. If you would like to keep your vehicle, where reasonable we will agree and will let you know the terms that would apply. Should we agree, the car and associated salvage rights will no longer be our property.

Repairs and replacements

What do we guarantee?

We will only guarantee materials and workmanship on repairs done by a repairer appointed or approved by us. This guarantee is for as long as you own your car and is not transferable.

Who does the repairs?

This policy does not offer a choice of repairer option. An appropriate qualified repairer appointed or approved by us will do the repairs.

What might you need to pay for?

We will repair your car to the condition that it was in immediately before the event leading to the claim. You may have to contribute to the cost of repairing or replacing items such as tyres, accessories, paintwork, bodywork, mechanical components, batteries or interior trims that have been affected by wear and tear or rust and corrosion or damage unrelated to the event leading to the claim. We will not incur any repair or replacement costs on your behalf without your agreement and will not expect you to pay these costs upfront in order for your claim to be approved.

What you pay will depend on the condition of the car at the time of the claim.

Replacement parts

Is the car under a manufacturer's warranty?

YES

We will use new Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) parts.

For replacement of windscreens or window glass we might use glass which was not produced by the original manufacturer but will always meet Australian Design Rules.

NO

We may authorise the use of new parts otherwise we will use parts that are consistent with the age or condition of your car. This may include the use of non-OEM or reconditioned parts.

Damaged parts of a set

We will only pay for the replacement of the actual part(s) damaged.

Parts or accessories no longer available in Australia

If the parts or accessories are no longer available from the manufacturer or available in Australia, we will only pay the cost of an equivalent part or its last listed parts price or value. We will not pay for any unreasonable extra costs to get the parts faster, and we will not have any responsibility for losses arising from any delay in the supply of parts.

Damage to your car's identification

If your car's identification, such as VIN plate or label, has been damaged and we cannot source a replacement from its manufacturer we will try to get written confirmation of your car's identity from the manufacturer. We will then repair your car without replacing any damaged identification, unless the law says we have to.

Understanding your excess

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of any claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

Excess types

There are different types of excesses, depending on what your claim relates to, who was driving your car and the type of cover you have chosen. Over the page we outline the different types of excesses and the situations in which they may apply. You will find the amount of each excess on your Certificate of Insurance.

Type of Excess

Basic excess

The amount you pay on each claim made under your policy.

The following excesses may also apply in addition to your basic excess (if applicable they will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance):

Age excess

This applies if the driver is under 25.
This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Undeclared young driver excess

This applies if the driver is under 25 and has not been declared as a driver on your Certificate of Insurance.
This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Learner driver excess

This applies if the driver is a learner driver.

Inexperienced driver excess

This excess applies if the driver is 25 years of age or over and has not held a valid licence to drive in Australia (excluding learner's licences and permits) for the last 2 years or longer.

Outside odometer excess

This excess only applies if our Pay As You Drive cover option is shown on your Certificate of Insurance, and at the time of an incident or claim:

- your car's odometer reading is below the start odometer reading or above the end odometer reading as shown on your Certificate of Insurance; and/or
- your car's odometer is faulty or non-functional and you have not had it repaired; and/or
- your car's odometer has been replaced and your odometer reading has changed as a result, and you have not contacted us to update your policy details.

Special excess

This excess will only be applied if shown on your Certificate of Insurance and may be based on things such as the car, its use, your driving record, or the insurance history of the drivers of your car.

Important note: The age and undeclared young driver excess is not applicable in the instance where you have elected to exclude cover for drivers under the age of 25, in which case there will be no cover.

When do you pay your excess(es)?

We will ask you to pay your excess(es):

- to the repairer when you pick up your car; or
- directly to us before you pick up your car; or
- directly to us when we settle a claim on your behalf with a third party.

Alternatively, we may deduct the excess(es) from the amount we pay you.

When won't you have to pay your excess(es)?

You will not have to pay an excess if:

- the damage to your car was caused by another driver and you did not contribute or were not at fault and the responsible party who is legally liable can be identified (you should obtain the name and address of the driver or owner and the registration number of the other car involved to help meet this requirement);
- the damage to your car did not involve another car and the responsible party who is legally liable can be identified (you should always obtain the name and address of that person to help meet this requirement); or
- you have taken the optional cover for 'Excess free windscreen cover' and you are only claiming for the breakage of your front windscreen.

For claims involving fire, theft and malicious damage, broken windscreen or damage sustained while your car is parked, the following excesses will not apply:

- Age;
- Undeclared young driver;
- Learner driver;
- Inexperienced driver.

However all other applicable excesses apply.

When to contact us

Changing your cover

We understand that your circumstances may change. That is why we need you to contact us promptly to apply to amend cover during the period of insurance. It is important to note that if you make a request to amend your cover this may affect your premium.

Any proposed changes to your cover will be subject to acceptance.

Renewing your policy

1

To ensure continuing protection we will normally send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of the policy. It will set out information such as the premium and excess for the new period, and any fees that may apply, information you have previously told us and may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed.

2

Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must comply with your 'Duty of Disclosure' (see pages 21–22). If you do not we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.

3

If you do not wish to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please just call us at least 2 days before the renewal date.

Unless you tell us you do not wish to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct/charge the renewal premium from your nominated account/credit card.

You also have a 14 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid (see the 14 day cooling off period for further information). You can also still cancel after the 14 day cooling off period (see Cancelling your policy for further information).

4

If we do not offer to renew your policy we will send you a notice telling you this.

Each renewal is a separate policy, not an extension of the prior policy. Your cooling off period will apply on each renewal.

If you have an agreed value policy, we will review your sum insured as part of your renewal offer. The updated amount will be stated on the renewal we send you.

This PDS (together with any amendments, updates or endorsements) also applies for any offer of renewal we make, unless we tell you otherwise or issue you with a new updated PDS or Supplementary PDS amending the PDS terms.

Cancelling your policy

If you want to cancel

You may cancel your policy by contacting us.

If you paid an annual premium, we will refund the full amount, less:

- the amount covering the period you were insured for;
- government or statutory charges we are unable to recover.

If you pay your premium by monthly instalments we will not provide a refund.

When we may cancel your policy

We may cancel your policy where permitted by and in accordance with the law. For example, if you:

- do not comply with the policy terms and conditions;
- do not pay your premium as agreed;
- make a fraudulent claim;
- did not comply with your Duty of Disclosure; or
- misrepresented information when you entered into your policy.

If we pay a claim for a total loss, your policy comes to an end and there is no refund of premium.
